INCIDENT MANAGEMENT

An organisation's hotline reporting system serves many purposes, such as providing:

- A confidential place for employees to clarify policy and discuss or report concerns
- A communications channel beyond the rumor mill
- A way to direct employee questions to the appropriate resource
- An opportunity to provide guidance before a poor decision is made
- An early warning of issues or problem areas brewing in the organisation
- A last internal stop for whistleblowers before they take an issue outside the organisation to a regulator or attorney

Challenge: Focus on Responsive Government

The popular opinion in the community of North Kingstown was a need for more information about the government as well as accountability for the government starting several years ago. In response, Michael Embury, Town Manager, began searching for ways to promote open government through technology with the help of Jason Albuquerque, Director of Technology.

In particular, the town government recognised the needs of citizens that wanted the ability to report problems or concerns anonymously. At the recommendation of a state auditor and outside consultants, the town started the search for a third-party system.

"People want safeguards, information and checks and balances. We were looking for a system that would make it safe and easy for citizens to report concerns," Embury said.

Solution: EthicsPoint® Provides Comprehensive Reporting and Case Management System

After researching various solutions, the town's audit committee chose NAVEX's EthicsPoint Hotline and Case Management. They also arranged for Embury and Albuquerque to participate in a web demonstration. There was an immediate positive reaction that showed the town's audit committee they chose correctly for North Kingstown.

During the installation, Albuquerque worked with NAVEX's Implementation Services team to customise the system. Embury and the town council and auditors were able to customise specific details to accommodate the precise needs for the town itself. As Albuquerque puts it, "The system is ideal for us. The case management structure is intricate and comprehensive; we can analyse the data, and there are no administrative time requirements on our side."

Results: Civic Transparency Rules the Day

Now, any citizen who wants to report a concern, complaint or inquiry regarding the town government or school district has the ability to do so anonymously and confidentially. It is a valuable resource in allowing citizens to keep their government accountable.

Embury also appreciates North Kingstown citizen's insistence on open government affairs. He continued, "NAVEX's system fits our vision. We have a civic-minded population that wants to know about everything, so we try to be as open as possible."

So far, Embury believes people are comfortable with what the government is doing and how things are being done. Citizens know that if something comes up, it can be reported anonymously and answered in a timely, structured manner. The increased trust in government has become apparent. "I talk to people who are impressed with the work we've done toward openness. And I've bragged a little bit," he finished.
