

Ethics & Compliance Training

Powered by NAVEXEngage

Inform, Educate and Empower your Employees

With limited budgets and diversified workforces, organizations are challenged with demonstrating the value and effectiveness of resources spent. Companies need confidence that their employees are well-equipped to respond correctly when situations arise that could put the organization at risk. Effective ethics and compliance training programs help manage risks because they improve company culture, satisfy federal and state training mandates, deliver management efficiencies, and align with an organization's values.

NAVEXEngage, NAVEX's Online Ethics and Compliance Training, delivers industry-leading training courses easily managed in the NAVEX One GRC Information System – all critical in running a reputable and successful organization.

How E&C Training Improves Company Culture and Reduces Risk

NAVEX's Ethics and Compliance Training is dynamic, contemporary and addresses the most pressing ethics and compliance topics. We offer a variety of course lengths and communication tools to ensure learners are engaged and empowered. Training managed in the NAVEX One GRC Information System provides the sophisticated program management and reporting tools today's E&C professionals need to demonstrate program effectiveness to internal and external stakeholders.

■ Create Value with Effective Training Content

NAVEXEngage delivers topical and legally vetted course content addressing compliance, conduct, employment law and information security risks, seamlessly managed within the NAVEX One GRC Information System or on the customer's preferred learning management system.

- Developed by experts in ethics and compliance with decades of experience, allowing unmatched clarity and accuracy on core topics and their implications
- Set up to align with an organization's values and promote a culture of ethics and respect while reducing the opportunity for undue risk in your organization

■ Stay Current and Satisfy Requirements

With our flexible subscription model, customers can swap course titles annually to train on all necessary topics and exceed strategic training objectives.

- Designed to withstand legal scrutiny and help organizations meet the demands of federal and local training mandates
- Updated regularly to ensure employees are being trained on the most current laws, regulations and applications to real-world scenarios

■ Drive Engagement in the Way People Learn

NAVEXEngage training courses are designed for optimal learner retention and comprehension. Each full-length course includes interactive elements throughout requiring the learners' attention and focus.

- Some courses offered in the Adaptive Learning format allows organizations to train on more topics while reducing re-training fatigue. It rewards a learners' proficiency by allowing them to skip over content they are proficient in, and focus on areas they need to review
- Micro Learnings should be deployed throughout the year for continued reinforcement
- Training can be taken anywhere at any time on desktop and mobile devices – perfect for employees who are on the go or do not have a set workstation
